

The W.H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section Collection and Maintenance Guidelines

Statement of Purpose

The W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section is where local history and genealogy materials are housed. The W. H. Stanton Memorial Library collects and organizes materials for the purpose of research covering the Social Circle and Walton County areas, neighboring counties, Uncle Remus Regional Library System, Georgia History, and general genealogy reference.

Acquisitions/Collection Development

Selections Criteria

Materials suitable for the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section collection must have relevance to the City of Social Circle, Walton County, neighboring counties, Uncle Remus Regional Library System, Georgia History, or general genealogy reference material.

Acquisitions

Materials will be collected through purchase, gift, or trade from individuals, businesses, and institutions. The Member Library Manager or Regional Library Director reserves the right to refer or reject gift or trade materials of questionable value to the collection.

The W.H. Stanton Memorial Library acquires local history and genealogy materials based on cost, space, demand, and relevance to the local area. Member Library local history collections focus on materials useful for general interest; they are not considered to be archival in scope. The W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section does not serve as a repository of genealogical materials that do not fall within the selections criteria scope.

Donations

All donations and gifts will be evaluated using the same criteria as materials selected for purchase. The W. H. Stanton Memorial Library will accept donations and gifts for the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section with the understanding that it may use them in accordance with its policies and dispose of them as it sees fit.

City of Social Circle and Walton County family histories, records, and local yearbooks must be made by donation, in a typed, bound, or digitized format, and no public funds are to be used to acquire such material/s.

Collection Maintenance

In general, the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section follows the practices outlined in the AZRLS Collection Development Policy.

W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section resources are weeded from the collection based on the following variables: content, condition, no longer part of the scope, or lack of patron demand which limits future use. With the removal of an item from its collection, the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library will do its utmost to secure a new home for the weeded material/s, ensure that such material/s are available via other sources such as Interlibrary Loan, the PINES system, or online databases, and reserves the right to sell discarded resources to benefit the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section or to otherwise dispose of items no longer suitable for its collections.

Access

The W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section is open to the public and accessible during normal library business hours. A PINES card is not required to use the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section. Patrons are allowed to bring laptop computers, tablet computers, and personal scanners into the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section. Items are not permitted to be removed or borrowed. Approval to loan/borrow material/s from other Member Libraries within the Uncle Remus Regional Library System may be granted by the Regional Library Director.

If material/s belonging to the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section cannot be located in either the W. H. Stanton Memorial Library Heritage Section or the W.H. Stanton Memorial Library building, the W.H. Stanton Memorial Library Manager, W.H. Stanton Memorial Library staff, Regional Library Director, nor Regional Library staff may be held responsible for missing, damaged, weeded, or misplaced material/s.
